ONLY HURTS FOR A LITTLE WHILE—It's a long way to travel; you know you shouldn't start out when you're tired, but you simply have to get home for the traditional turkey carving—you know, white tablecloth and all the best dishes laid out. So you hurry, you make one sleepy turn, one careless move and you know nothing else until you are whisked away to an operating room where the white of a surgeon's gown takes the place of the white linen tablecloth and the one laid out on the table is you. This Thanksgiving drive carefully, drive slowly, be alert ... be alive.

Kennedy Loses Majority Vote

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22 (UPI)—John F. Kennedy will be 24th "minority" President in history because he received less than half of the votes in the 1960 election.

The percentage margin by which Kennedy led Vice President Richard M. Nixon in popular votes stood a fraction below the record low set in the 1884 election.

WHILE KENNEDY outpolled Nixon in the popular vote, ballots cast for others in the presidential race prevented the Democratic nominee from getting a majority of the total vote.

Kennedy's total was 153,116 below the 50 per cent mark—a margin which he has no chance of overcoming in view of the small number of ballots still to be tabulated.

Humorist Expresses Desire for 'Kindness'

by Dave Thomas
Daily Universe Reporter

Humorist and son of a humorist, Will Rogers Jr., Monday expressed the hope that the "family humor" of his father is not lost in a physically changing world.

Speaking at the Monday forum, Mr. Rogers cited the opinion of the Navajo tribe over the past 15 years to indicate a change of physical change the tribe is undergoing.

THINK he typifies those who are that I hope never change my country," he said, speaking to his father.

The modern humor of insult is the point-of-view comedian contrasted with the first Rogers' "neutral" observation.

DO NOT belong to an organized party—I'm a Democrat," noted his father as saying.

He've had a change of humor in this country—and not, in my opinion a change for the better," the former California congressman asserted.

WILL ROGERS SR. was at his best when he was commenting on daily America in his newspaper column, the speaker said.

"Dad's philosophy was one of kindness and being bigger than you are and he was always the first to help a man when he was in trouble," he added.

Congressional delegation to join in sponsoring legislation to transfer 40 acres on the mountain east of Provo to the university, Mr. Howe said:

"Earlier this month, Senator Moss asked the Forest Service to determine whether an act of Congress will be required in this case, and we are waiting a reply. The senator will join with the other members of the delegation in introducing a bill if it is needed."

Music Groups To Present Classical Hour

A special Thanksgiving musical program will be presented at the Wednesday devotional assembly at Brigham Young University.

The service will begin at 10 a.m. in the Smith Fieldhouse.

SCHOLA CANTORUM, directed by Professor Ralph Woodward, will sing "Jubilate Deo" by Gabrieli as the opening number, with brass and organ accompaniment. The Male Chorus will then sing "Though I Speak with Tongues of Men" by Brahms.

"How Excellent Thy Name" by Howard Hanson will be offered by the Women's Chorus. The Schola Cantorum will then render "Psalm 95" by Finney with an organ accompaniment.

WAYNE MAYBERRY and Irene Hardy are accompanists with J. J. Keeler at the organ.

The Concert Band, conducted by Professor Ralph Laycock, will play two movements from Dvorak's "New World Symphony," "Adagio" and "Allegro Molto."

MR. HOWE pointed out that in 1914, BYU was granted an easement in perpetuity by a private investment company which, it was thought, owned the land on which the "Y" is situated, but it now appears that it is federal land.

Senator Moss is a member of the Senate Interior Committee and of its Public Lands subcommittee to which such a bill would be referred by the Senate, Mr. Howe said.

NSA Report Aired At Senate Meet

by Kovan Smith
Daily Universe Reporter

A report from Senate President Larry Jenkins and a bill providing for an amendment to the Senate rules were the main agenda items at the ASBYU Senate meeting Monday night.

PRESIDENT Jenkins reported on the National Student Association meeting held in Salt Lake City nearly two weeks ago. The meeting was held because schools in the Utah region were dissatisfied with the way the NSA had become involved in politics in recent years.

Purpose of the meeting was to decide the future status of Utah schools in regards to NSA. Utah State University pulled out of NSA; Weber College decided to stay in since they are soon to become a four-year institution and they felt NSA would be helpful, and College of Southern Utah decided to stay in.

UNIVERSITY of Utah student officers felt the only way they would stay in was if some changes were made, and BYU made no definite stand because they did not have the opinion of student leaders.

A bill providing for an amendment to the Senate rules was introduced by Senators Doug Rhoton and Cliff Mayfield. The bill, which would grant the power of subpoena to the Senate and its several permanent committees, was referred to the Student Activities Committee for further study.

SENATOR John Williams also reported on the findings of the Student Services Committee in regards to having nameplates made for the senators. After displaying several different styles; however, the senators defeated the motion that they must each buy a nameplate.

Senator Rhoton, chairman of greater communities committee, then asked Senator Mayfield to read a letter to Max Fingersh, ASBYU President, as a report of their committee. The letter had to do with the National Guard Seminar on Communism which will be held soon. Action on the letter was postponed until next meeting.

Moss to Help in Acquiring Block 'Y'

Senator Frank E. Moss (D-Utah) is assisting Brigham Young University in acquiring the land upon which the school's famous block "Y" is located, the senator's administrative assistant, Allan T. Howe, declared Monday in a telegram to the Daily Universe.

The land is owned by the Federal Government.

NOTING THAT BYU President Ernest L. Wilkinson has requested the members of the Utah

When Driving Home

Your death this weekend...

WHERE?

The rural area is the most frequent setting for fatal accidents. Utah is mostly rural.

On curves, accident danger doubles. At intersections it increases.

WHEN?

The peak period is the twilight hours of from four to eight o'clock. Falling this, from twelve to four in the morning will do nicely.

HOW?

One third of deaths result from collisions with other cars, another third from noncollision accidents with pedestrians.

The high number of head-on collisions and vehicles which run off the roadway in rural areas emphasizes the need for control at the wheel.

You may fall asleep and veer into a ditch, viaduct, pole or tree.

You may turn on a radio, close a window, eat a sandwich, steal a kiss, or look at a road map.

You may hit a tree limb, a hole, a bump, a hubcap, a soft shoulder, or skid in the rain or on gravel.

You may round a corner too fast, decide to make a turn too late, misjudge a curve, or shoot over a hilltop too suddenly to stop for an unexpected obstacle.

WHY?

The severity of your accident will depend greatly on speed.

A lot, too, will depend on the other driver and upon road conditions.

Driving skill is an essential factor. It is affected by your emotions and your health. Driving when angry is like driving with blinders.

... this is how it could be.

Thanksgiving holidays will find many students on the roads heading for home. We want your trip to be a happy one and we want you to come back.

You will if you:

1. Watch your speed.
2. Be completely at the wheel all the time.
3. Don't even start if you're tired.
4. Be equally careful in daylight or darkness, good or bad weather.
5. Be watchful of every curve.
6. Drive for the other guy—know what he may do.
7. Know your limitations.

—Toni Ziegler

It's Preference Ball Time

Beware the female of the species.

By nature unnatural, she stands for all that is opposite in a world of reason.

Beware, especially, the female during leap year. Deceptively aloof, she pursues her prey with studied casualness, entangling him by remaining apart.

This week the female gives way to her predatory instincts—this still week when preference slips are mailed out.

Our sympathy to the male, poor entrapped creature. In hope of aiding him we publish our own special laboratory analysis:

Subject: Woman

Symbol: Woe

Physical Properties: Boils at nothing. Freezes at any minute. Melts when properly treated. Very bitter it not used well.

Chemical Properties: Has a great affinity for gold, silver, platinum and precious stones. Violent reactions when left alone. Turns green when placed beside a better looking specimen.

Occurrence: Found wherever man exists.

Uses: Highly ornamental. Useful as a tonic in the acceleration of low spirits. Active equalizer in the distribution of wealth. Most effective agent known for the reducing of income.

Caution: Highly explosive in inexperienced hands. Handle with extreme care.

B of M Verse Comes Alive On Recording

The Latter-day Saints now have a new way to enjoy the Book of Mormon. An album of 50 records is now being pressed, containing a word-for-word reading of Mormon's record.

AVERAGING 19 minutes of listening on each of the 100. Total time is over 30 hours. It is presented as a single book-type album.

The scripture is read by Charles Freed.

THE ENTIRE production was accomplished in less than 90 days. It was produced under the direction of Columbia Research Group, Salt Lake City. Allied Record Manufacturing Company, Hollywood, Calif., is the pressing company.

"A VOICE from the Dust," the title of the album, is the result of an idea which began several years ago. The founders of Columbia Research Group were aware that modern techniques of electronic sound reproduction were making their place in American education.

THEY WONDERED why the same techniques were not employed to give new vitality and interest to the Scriptures. Since no firm then operating was dedicated to supplying the listening public with scriptural material, and audio-educational records, Columbia Research Group was organized.

Plans for future include recording of the Old and New Testaments, and various smaller classics.

Police Promise New Blockades For Y Students

The recent blockades which sent nearly 200 Brigham Young University students to court for not having Utah driver's licenses and non-resident permits was just a beginning according to Provo Police Department.

Provo Police Chief Jesse Evans said that more blockades will be set up, although he would not say when or where. Utah state law says that students entering school for the first year are assumed to be "visitors" and are not violating the law until 60 days are up, at which time their visitor status ends.

Out-of-state faculty are assumed to have established legal residence in Utah as soon as they accept employment and they must obtain Utah license plates for their car and a Utah driver's license.

All cars must have legal license plates. If the license plates are out-of-state, a student may obtain a non-resident sticker from the Utah State Tax Commission, and he must do so as soon as he arrives on campus. There is no period of grace in this respect.

Students who are guilty of not having a Utah driver's license will be fined $15, with $75.00 of not suspended. This policy applies to students who have a valid driver's license from another state, or have let their Utah driver's license expire. The full $15 fine will be levied upon those who do not have a valid license elsewhere, or in case those residents of Utah, have not previously had a valid Utah license.

Oh, Those Skirts!

Dear Editor:

Last spring, while driving through a local canyon, I passed a farm where a babbling brook flowed into three crystal ponds. Trout danced on the water and ducks swam leisurely about.

The ducks reminded me of children playing follow-the-leader. Whatever the leader would do the others would do. This didn't strike me as being too peculiar, for this is common among lower forms of life. But follow the leader actions are certainly out of place among the intelligentsia at BYU.

Men, take notice of the girls on campus. They remind me of waddling ducks. If one quacks the others quack. If one wears a short skirt the others must follow.

It seems that what happens in this: designers decide to make short skirts the fashion; some popular girl (the leader) with good-looking legs and knees wears a short skirt; and every bird-legged, knock-kneed, or chunky-caved girl follows suit. They do not care whether or not clothes look good on them, it's just that they must be in style.

NOW YOU KNOW

The oldest legislative body is the Althing of Iceland founded in 930 A.D. It originally comprised 39 local chieftains. It was abolished in 1800 but restored by Denmark to a consultative status in 1845 and a legislative status in 1874.—(UPI).

Girls, stop being ducks—I not know if anyone is in agreement; never-the-less I would like to see some wear a dress that just looks good. I mean.

Sis Boom Bahl!

Dear Editor:

The following is tendered what we hope is constructive criticism. We would like to see these several paragraphs to number of articles printed date in your "Safety Valve" column concerning cheerleaders this year.

Before saying anything, I realized that our cheer leaders put a considerable amount of time and effort in preparation for their duties at BYU athletic events. They should be commended for their efforts. However, at football games this year they have failed to realize most of their potentiality.

There are a number of areas in which we feel they have been "up to par"—two of which are of particular significance. The first of these is the high student abandonment of traditional BYU cheers which in the past have been an integral part of studentbody pep at football and basketball games.

The second area is the low quality of cheers that have been far too complicated and unsophisticated for the college level. Most of the cheers at our football games this year would be more appropriate for highly educated high school students who generally are quite exuberant.

With all consideration due, we would like to suggest that cheerleaders make a serious reappraisal of their program for the coming basketball season. Our cheer leaders inspire a substantial representation of the studentbody about the two areas mentioned, we feel certain that they will find our criticism well founded. Thank you.

"SCRUDS" SNUBBED—It's sort of hard on a fellow when the social unit he's pledging insists on making it a policy for "scruds" to ignore girls. "Scruds" Toney Bentley, Bud Bracken and Brent Egbert are finding this out as they launch on their first week of anti-girlism. Tempting them to break rules are Helen Farnsworth and Kathy Barnes.

Three Week Anti-Girl Period...

'Scruds' Make Apology To All Campus Women

Fifteen as of now unsmiling boys on campus wish to make a public apology to all BYU coeds. The boys won't be talking, smiling, or dating any of the fairer sex for the next three weeks. It's not that they don't like girls. There are reasons for this calamitous change in the normally friendly fellows. They're social unit "scruds" and are being isolated from women to make them more "humble."

GIRLS CAN speak to the "scruds" but won't be spoken to in return. Besides not talking to girls the fellows are recognizable by the suits, white shirts, ties and vests.

AMONG THE 15 soon to be humble scruds are Tom Arzetti, Dick Baker, Toney Bentley, Bud Bracken, Pat Brian and Larry Daines.

Other members of the scrud class are Brent Egbert, Phil Empey, Gordon Holyoak and Paul Litchfield.

Still others isolated from the women for the three week period are Cliff Mayfield, Jim Moss, Meredith Romney, John Stone and Jim Stricklin.

Season's Sweet Aloha Aim of Cougar Gridders

Brigham Young University's football season hasn't been all roses, but it is bound to end on a sweet note this week with a trip to Hawaii.

The Cougars, who are tied for fifth place in Skyline Conference wars, will close out the season's campaign Friday night against the University of Hawaii.

COACH Tally Stevens will take 33 players on the trip. They will leave for the Pacific Island group early Wednesday morning. They will tangle with the Rainbows Friday night in the last game of the season.

A win would give the Cougars a 4-7 record for the year, a better mark than was expected of them at the start of the season.

The two teams have had one mutual opponent in the University of Utah. Hawaii dropped a 5-38 decision to the Utes earlier this season while BYU was a 0-17 loser to the Redskins.

LAST WEEK the Cougars were buckled under by co-champion Wyoming, 30-6. The Cowboys scored in every quarter as they passed, kicked and ran over the game Cougars.

"They are the best team we've played this year," said Stevens after the game. "They have the most powerful backs in the league, and while the Wyoming line isn't as physically strong as others we've faced, it is better balanced and has greater speed and depth."

ALTHOUGH Wyoming's tight defense limited the Cougars to a scant 52 yards on the ground, the Cats managed to connect on eight of 17 passes for 109 yards and one touchdown.

Cougar halfback Jack Gifford still holds an edge in the team's offensive statistics. Giff has gained 254 yards on the ground in 57 carries for a 4.5 average.

Quarterback Bud Belpas is close behind in rushing with 241 yards in 97 carries and a 2.5 average. An additional 288 yards through the air has given Bud a lead in total offense however, with 526 total yards.

GIFFORD is the leading scorer for the Cougars with 18 points coming on three touchdowns. Belpas is second in this department with 16 points on two touchdowns and two two-point conversions.

Bill Wright has 14 points and Bruce Samples and Don Peterson have 12 each.

Punters Ron Jacobsen, LeRoy Overstreet and Bill Wright have booted the Cats to a respectable 38 yard average per punt. Jacobsen has punted 31 times for 1223 yards and a 39.4 average.

Overstreet has a 42.5 yard average for 13 punts and Wright a 29 yard average in six boots.

SOPHOMORE Bruce Samples has compiled a phenomenal record in his 22 kick-off returns. The explosive scabbard has returned the 22 kick-offs for 540 yards, a 24.5 average.

Paul "Horse" Allen has turned 7 kickoffs for 153 and a 23.7 yard average.

End Don Peterson has 7 passes for 94 yards and touchdowns and Jack O has 6 receptions for 138 and one TD. Samples has catches for 166 yards and
